ACUTE AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM

The exact cause of rheumatism is unknown, though it is generally believed to be due to an excess of uric acid in the blood. It may be also said with equal truth that no remedy has been found which is as specific in all cases. In fact the literature of rheumatism shows that there are but few drugs which have not been given a trial. In the hands of one observer we find that a certain drug has been used with the utmost satisfaction; others have found the same remedy to be a great disappointment. All physicians however agree that every method of treatment is aided by the administration of some remedy to relieve the pain and quiet the nervous system and Dr. W. B. Schultze expresses the opinion of thousands of practitioners when he says that anti-kamnia tablets should be given preference over all other remedies for the relief of the pain in all forms of rheumatism. These tablets can be purchased in any quantity. They are also unsurpassed in headaches, neuralgias and all pain. Ask for A-K Tablets.

RAIL WAGE LAW NOT FORCED BY SUDDEN CRISIS

Hughes Refutes Wilson Argument by Quoting Correspondence on Measure.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 29.—Absolutely contradicting the president's assertion that "a sudden crisis" had come about in the Adamson wage fixing bill situation, and that the crisis had to be met in the only way possible, Mr. Hughes brought into the case a mass of correspondence from the Chambers of Commerce of the United States to the president and to the chairman of the senate committee, going back to as far as July 29, and appealing for an investigation of the facts before forcing legislation.

Mr. Hughes laid emphasis upon two points: That this correspondence alone was enough to show that there was no "sudden crisis," and also to prove that there was a widespread and earnest demand that the Interstate Commerce Commission go thoroughly into the controversy between the railroads and the brotherhoods before any legislation was had.

Invades Wilson's State.
Mr. Hughes came into New Jersey and got right down to business by appearing before a big crowd at the in-state fair in Trenton. As elsewhere Republicans and Progressives composing the Grand Old Party sat on the platform at the fair grounds side by side and smiling amiably.

The Jerseymen were quite obviously showing Mr. Hughes that the recent primaries had left no hard feelings. Joseph Frelinghuysen, the successful candidate for United States senator, was careful to shake hands a lot of times with Franklin Murphy whom he defeated, and Walter E. Edge, who beat Austin Colgate for the gubernatorial nomination, paid a lot of attention to Mr. Colgate.

The affair was successful, although the management seemed to do its best to make the morning disconcerted to Mr. Hughes. The local committeemen, apparently unable to stand up under the honors they were carrying, lost their heads and issued a lot of silly orders to the police. The police got excited and started to shove. Suddenly the ticket office boosted the price of admission, figuring that Charles E. Hughes was a rattling good attraction and could be had only once.

Views Forcefully Presented.
The air resounded with the plaints of Jerseymen. However, these vexations could not divert Mr. Hughes from the business that brought him to the big fair. He got his views before the big crowd rapidly and forcefully. He went strong on the tariff argument, and strong, too, upon his

Americanism declaration, saying: "We are desirous of maintaining our rights; the maintenance of American rights with respect to life, property and commerce will not endanger our peace and security. We want to deserve the respect of all nations instead of inviting resentment and serious difficulties."

He bore down pretty hard on the Adamson bill, which he has been making an effective weapon. He branded it as a misrepresentation from first to last. He said:

"I am not opposed to the principle of an eight-hour day, but I am opposed to calling a bill an eight-hour day bill when it is not an eight-hour day bill at all, but a wage bill. I am not opposed to increased wages that are justified by the facts. I am opposed to any legislation in the absence of knowledge of the facts. I am opposed to a surrender to a show of force. Stand for principle and the whole American nation will back the man that does it."

At New York Convention.
Mr. Hughes left Trenton about 12:20 p. m. and arrived in Jersey City in the early afternoon. His special train was switched from the track of the Pennsylvania railroad to the West Shore and went on its way to up-state, passing through Albany at a few minutes after 7 o'clock and arriving here one hour later.

This morning Mr. Hughes began a two days' speech-making tour in northern New York. He is scheduled to make twenty-seven speeches in the two days, but the importance of important persons will get the schedule increased somewhat and Mr. Hughes may be expected to deliver about thirty speeches. His night meetings and long addresses will be at Hornell tonight and at Buffalo Saturday night.

PROGRESSIVES

In This State Will Be Solidly Republican, Declares Mr. Schuck.

FAIRMONT, Sept. 29.—"If other claims they are making haven't any sounder basis to rest on than the claim of the Democratic state headquarters that forty per cent of the former Progressives in West Virginia will vote the Democratic ticket, then there is nothing in any of their claims," said Hon. Charles J. Schuck, of Wheeling, who came here to address a Republican rally. "There is absolutely nothing in that claim. The Progressives will be solidly Republican. The former Progressives are back in the old party almost to a man. As one of them, as their candidate two years ago for congressman-at-large, and having been active with the leaders in the management of that party, I guess I ought to be in a good position to know whereof I speak."

If Too Fat Get More Fresh Air

BE MODERATE IN YOUR DIET AND REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT. TAKE OIL OF KOREIN.

Lack of fresh air, it is said, weakens the oxygen carrying power of the blood, the liver becomes sluggish, fat accumulates and the action of many of the vital organs are hindered thereby. The heart action becomes weak, work is an effort and the beauty of the figure is destroyed.

Fat put on by indoor life is unhealthy and if nature is not assisted in throwing it off a serious case of obesity may result.

When you feel that you are getting too stout, take the matter in hand at once. Don't wait until your figure has become a joke and your health ruined through carrying around a burden of unsightly and unhealthy fat.

Spend as much time as you possibly can in the open air; breathe deeply, and get from Bland's Drug Store, Farrell's Drug Store or any druggist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself every few days and keep up the treatment until you are down to normal. Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, aids the digestion and even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight.—Advertisement.

HOLIDAYS

In a Certain Sense Are Extended Judicial Days, the Supreme Court Says.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 29.—According to an opinion of the West Virginia supreme court of appeals holidays, in a certain sense, are extended judicial days. The question was disposed of when the higher court affirmed the circuit court of Tyler county in its decision in the case of Bennett against the Farmers' Mutual Fire Association.

In writing the opinion in this case, Judge George Poffenbarger says: "If it so happens that a rule day of a circuit court occurs on a holiday and a term of court begins on the next day, the rules extend through such next day by virtue of the postponement of extension."

"If the rule days of a court extend into a term, as in this case, the office judgment entered thereafter does not become final until the last day of the term succeeding the one so invaded by the rules and it cannot be properly entered as final, in the absence of the defendant, until such succeeding term."

ANOTHER CHARGE

Preferred against C. H. Johnston Who is Prisoner in Jail.

A warrant charging C. H. Johnston, who was recently arrested on warrants charging him with burglarizing two homes and a store on South Second street, with having intoxicated in a public street, was served upon him in the county jail Friday morning. The warrant was sworn out by J. H.

Tenney, deputy commissioner of prohibition, who claims that when Johnston was arrested on the other charges he had a bottle of whiskey in his pocket.
